

The governance professional development pathway

NZSTA offers a comprehensive governance professional development learning pathway – this will allow you to gain the essential knowledge you need to be an effective board member. The pathway will guide you through the required learning enabling you to contribute fully to your board’s work.

The pathway will guide you through each level of learning ensuring that the four critical aspects of governance are included.

The governance professional development pathway is made up of three levels of knowledge and practice.

You will now be recognised for undertaking professional development

You can earn badges by completing assessments for each topic, with an overall level badge awarded by collecting all the compulsory topic badges.

Certificates are also available to confirm attendance at a course or for completing an online module.
